Save the dates: 4 exciting episodes of Talk MS!

- ▶ March 23 Throughout the Ages: Living with Relapsing MS in Your 20s, 30s and 40s

MS care and treatments have evolved, and for people living with relapsing MS, there are more options than ever. In this session, we will talk to a health care professional and MS LifeLines Ambassadors and explore themes and ideas about what it's like living with MS today when you're in your 20s, 30s or 40s.
- ▶ April 27 The More You Know: Understanding Clinical Trials

Clinical trials are an important part of understanding the safety profile and efficacy of a relapsing MS therapy. In this episode, we'll review how MS treatments are developed, evaluated and approved by the FDA and what the data may mean to you when discussing your relapsing MS therapy with a health care professional.
- ▶ May 25 The Skin You're In: Relapsing MS and Skin Care

Did you know that skin plays an important role in overall health and wellness? Taking proactive steps to preserve, protect and nurture our skin is part of keeping it healthy and maintaining its vitality. Watch as we discuss techniques to care for your skin, ways some MS symptoms can affect the skin and common injection-site reactions of relapsing MS therapies.
- ▶ June 22 MS on the Go: Traveling with Relapsing MS

Living with relapsing MS doesn't mean you have to stop traveling; in fact, many people with MS continue to travel. In this episode, we discuss the ways you can plan ahead and help make sure your plans take off without a hitch—whether it's for work or fun.
